

ROUTES TO BROAD RIPPLE

Electric Lines Thereto Laid Out by a Company of Cincinnati Capitalists.

They Come Forward with Incorporated Powers and Ask for Privileges Both in the East and West Parts of the City.

The Broad Ripple Railway Company is in the field again with new articles, that were filed late yesterday afternoon with the Secretary of State, the capital stock being $50,000, with the right to increase to any amount desired. The directors are Jas. E. Mooney, of Louisville, who has $10,000 stock opposite his name; Joseph Cox, Glendale, $10,000; James M. Smith, Cincinnati, $5,000; Peter F. Swing, Indiana, $5,000; Thos. O. Morris, Indiana, $5,000; Walter T. Cox, Cincinnati, $1,000; James H. Mahan, Cincinnati, $1,000. After filing the articles attorney Walter Cox proceeded to the Court-house and left petitions for right of way with the Board of Public Works and the County Commissioners. The gentlemen interested in this enterprise hope to get speedy and favorable action upon their petitions. The routes they ask for were laid out by Mr. Cox and submitted to them at a meeting in Cincinnati a few days ago. Having been favorably considered, the next and most difficult step is to secure the more necessary approval of the board and the commissioners.

The newly incorporated company asks for two routes, to be designated as the east and west lines. The east line begins at Butcher's farm, northwest of Crown Hill Cemetery, runs east to Tennessee street, which it will strike either at Thirty-first, Thirty-second or Thirty-third street, when opened, thence south on Tennessee to Twenty-sixth or Twenty-seventh street, thence east to Washington boulevard, thence south to Alabama street, where it strikes the corporation line. From the intersection of Tennessee and Alabama streets it runs west to Delaware street, thence south to Fortieth street, west to Talbot street, south to Exposition avenue, east to Delaware street, where it strikes the corporation line, and then runs east to the line here when Delaware street is opened through the fair grounds. From this point the line runs south on Delaware street to Virginia avenue, thence across the viaduct to Louisiana street and south to Garfield Park. The company asks also, in connection with this route, for permission to lay a cross line on Ninth street from the canal tow-path east to Delaware street.

The west line begins at the intersection of Virginia avenue and Delaware street and runs west on Georgia to Meridian, thence north to New York, west to North West street, north to Indiana avenue and California street, where it crosses the line there to Fayette street. Running along Fayette the line strikes the tow-path of the canal, and continues to Ninth street, where it strikes the corporation line at the Michigan road, taking in Brighton Beach and the Schutzen Park. From the corporation line it runs west on Ninth to Schurman avenue, thence to McLean street, and from there to Rader street. Running north on Rader to Highland avenue and thence to the canal, the exclusive use being asked the County Commissioners of all of Rader street as to any other railroad line; also that portion of Ontario street between McLean and Florida avenues; also Yerter-Post and Crawfordville gravel road, Indiana avenue to the west end of the line; also the exclusive use for fifty years of Crescent avenue, Flora-Minter water road, Baker gravel road, from a point on the canal to the north of the west gate entrance, as at present, to Crown Hill Cemetery, north to White river along the east line of Michigan road, thence to the south along the east bank of White river to the south line of Michigan street, thence east to the west corporation line, thence in a northeasterly direction along the west corporation line to the east line of the Michigan road, thence north to place of beginning, excepting those portions of highways in which rights to occupy have already been granted. At Ninth street and the canal it is designed to have a junction line east to Delaware street.

The incorporators of the Broad Ripple company ask the commissioners for permission to build and operate either single or double track electric roads along the portions of the above routes outside the corporation line, with the privilege of using any and all bridges en route. They also ask the right to cross all intersecting public highways with the Indianapolis Water Company on the tow-path or term bank of the canal between the north line of the corporation line to Delaware street at Broad Ripple at grade; also to use any and all public highways necessary and not otherwise heretofore granted at Broad Ripple.

Judge Peter F. Swing is president of the new company and R. B. Jones, general agent of the C. & H. D. railroad at Cincinnati, secretary. If they secure the right of way they have petitioned for, they are prepared to build and equip lines at a cost of from $25,000 to $50,000. They have already completed a plan for operating a line at Findlay, O. The residents of Southport and Greenwood will probably be invited to build and wire tracks for them if they will operate such an extension from Garfield Park to those points. It is said they have been pretty well assured of that. The projectors say their new lines would open up new territory for the city and people will be greatly benefited if they are granted the rights of way for which they have petitioned. If the lines are built the permanent secretary will be H. H. Smith, of Toledo, O.

The Board of Public Works held a secret session last night, but would say nothing to indicate that it had considered the petition. A reference to the petition in the possible route for an electric line elicited the rather significant utterance from President Condit: "We are not going to have streets with asphalt to have car lines run over them. Tennessee street was suggested, and Mr. Condit replied: "Oh, we want three or four streets in the city that we can drive on without the serious drawback of street cars."

While Washington boulevard is private property, the company is of the impression that the right of way will be granted to use it, as the owners are anxious for a line. Haughville will be reached possibly from First street west across a new bridge to Grandview avenue. This proposition is made for that.

Fruit Pinwheels.

BY MARIA PARLOA.

Mix together and rub through a sieve one pint of flour, one tablespoonful of sugar, half a teaspoonful of salt and two teaspoonfuls of Cleveland's baking powder. Into this mixture rub two generous tablespoonfuls of butter. Wet with a scant half-pint of milk. Sprinkle the board with flour, and, putting the dough upon it, roll down to a large square about half an inch thick. Spread a heaping tablespoonful of soft butter on this and then spread with a cupful of sugar and a cupful of currants. Grate a little nutmeg over it, and roll up like a jelly roll or pinwheel style. Cut in slices about two inches square, and lay in well buttered pans. Do not let the slices touch each other. Bake in a very quick oven for about twelve minutes. These are nice for luncheon or tea. (Copyright, 1891, by Cleveland Baking Powder Co.)

Use only Cleveland's baking powder, the proportions are made for that.

With Cleveland's Baking Powder cake keeps fresh; breads are fine grained; biscuit light and flaky. Try a can, Cleveland's.

posed new line to North Indianapolis will cut the Citizen's road to that point squarely in two.

SULLIVAN AND HIS TICKET.

He Has a Clear Field, but Swift, Equally as Good an Officer, Has a Struggle Before Him.

A Democrat wanted to know yesterday why City Clerk Swift was not as much entitled to unanimous nomination for re-election as Mayor Sullivan. He could not see the justice of giving the Mayor an open field while Swift is forced to work night and day among the truly good as well as the wicked Democracy to hold his own against candidates Reinecke, Abrams, Ed Smith and Johnson. Sullivan and Swift were elected together two years ago, and if there is any virtue in a Democratic administration of municipal affairs the latter has done no more than Sullivan to smother it. Reinecke is Swift's most formidable opponent, and gets his strength from the fact that he is a Southsider. The other candidates live on the North Side, as does Pierce Norton, candidate for police judge. If the latter is nominated, with Reinecke off the ticket, the candidate will be from the North Side. Therefore it is natural for Norton and Reinecke to pool their interests and work to defeat Swift. It is just as natural for Swift and Reardon to come together with the purpose of defeating Reinecke. Reardon is a Southsider, and wants to be police judge. This seems to be the situation that is being prepared for the Democratic city convention on the 25th inst., and it is arousing a good deal of animosity between Swift and Reardon on one side and Reinecke and Norton on the other. But that does not explain why there should not be a South-side candidate for Mayor, as well as for city clerk and police judge.

Primarys to Nominate Councilmen. The Democratic members of the City Council held a caucus in the clerk's office immediately after adjournment last night and decided to favor the holding of primarys for the nomination of councilmen Sept. 5, from 3 to 8 p. m. They also decided to recommend that the candidates be chosen by ballot in each ward.

AFFAIRS OF LABOR.

The Street-Railway Situation Favorable to Early Settlement.

The street-railway men did not reach a strike, as was expected yesterday. The opposition to this extreme measure proved too strong in the meeting of the brotherhood, and a committee was appointed for further conference with the company. The spirit of arbitration ruled the meeting. Some definite step is expected Thursday on the part of the company, which expects a strike, had made arrangements to put in the place of the line from Chicago, St. Louis, Richmond and other points. It was intimated that the brotherhood sought to gain time, and protect definite action till about the middle of the month, when their own demands would be considered, but the company recalled the schedule offered and rejected by the men.

Teamsters and Shovelers. The Teamsters' and Shovelers' Union will hold a public meeting Thursday night in Mansur Hall.

Death of Conrad Ruse. Conrad Ruse died Monday morning, at 1 o'clock, at his home on East Washington street, near Pine. He was sixty-eight years of age, and had lived in Indianapolis since 1883. In business life he was a stone contractor, but he has not been active in business for several years. He was well known as one of the founders of the German Orphan Society, of which he had been a member twenty-four years, and to which he bequeathed several hundred dollars. He will be buried from Zion's Church to-day.

THE JEWISH PRAYER-BOOK. American Rabbis in Conference Discuss the Necessity of a New One.

BALTIMORE, Md., July 6.—The Central Conference of American Rabbis was in session all day. The deliberations were concluded at night. It was decided to meet next year in New York city. The sessions were well attended. The day's business began with a discussion regarding the necessity for a new prayer-book. The subject came up on the report of the committee appointed to formulate a ritual, or rather the lack of their report. The chairman of the committee was not present, and no regular report had been prepared. A motion was adopted to excuse "Eunuch" (the name of the committee) from the matter and appoint a new one that will work.

Rev. Max Hellen, of New Orleans, said that a prayer-book compiled by Jews would not stand fifty years. It would either partake of the emotionalism of the Methodists or the formalism of the Episcopalians. It would either be too dry or too flowery, or it would be in the way of the progress of Judaism. President Wise said: "We want a union prayer-book, one that will be acceptable to all our congregations and one that will contain the best elements of advanced thought. We do not want in it the doctrine of the resurrection of the body, and we don't want to put in our prayer-book that which we have no clear authority for and what the world disbelieves. We want a book that will be progressive ideas that the world has adopted. Ideas that will satisfy the people are the ones desired."

Representatives, of St. Louis, said that when everybody wanted to pray there was but one prayer-book; now, when nobody wants to pray, there is a multitude. The report of the committee was appointed to draw up a response to the fraternal greetings extended by the Jewish Ministers' Association of America, through Dr. Silverman, created comment. The resolutions stated that the conference of the Jewish Ministers' Association and expresses the hope that in the near future a platform may be formed on which all Jewish ministers of America can agree. The conference adopted this much, but refused to recommend the creation of Southern and Western rabbinical conferences.

Convention of Glass-Workers. STEUBENVILLE, O., July 6.—The first day of the fourteenth annual convention of the American Glass-Workers' Association opened bright and clear, with 25,000 visitors in the city. The city is beautifully decorated and five thousand flint glass-workers marched in line this morning. In the afternoon addresses were made by Gov. Campbell, of Ohio; President W. J. Smith, of the Glass-Workers' Union; Miles Humphrey, of Pittsburgh; W. H. Klier, of Chicago, and others. To-morrow morning the glass-workers' delegates will meet in business session in the court-house. Their meeting will continue all week. They are to prepare their annual scale, besides transacting other business of importance.

Singers Contest for Prizes.

NEWARK, N. J., July 6.—This was the fourth day of the Sangerfest. Fifty thousand persons were present. Four thousand singers released this morning. This afternoon there was prize singing by the societies of the first and second nights. The prize song for the first class was "Rememberance." The second class sang "The Ruined Mill," an elegiac madrigal verification of the conveyer of the ideas of rushing water, wind and loneliness. The judges were H. Mosenthal, Dudley Buck, Adolph Neundorfer, Henry Zollner and Max Braun. An interesting program was rendered at the evening event. There will be a great parade to-morrow, in which 10,000 singers will participate. There will be six divisions and twenty bands of music.

INDIANA AND ILLINOIS NEWS.

Luther Jones, of Monroe County, Terribly Beaten by White Caps and May Die.

Tied to a Tree and His Back Cut to Pieces for Mistreating a Sickly Young Wife—State Police Board Visit to Terre Haute.

Fate of a Wife-Beater who Falls Into the Hands of White Caps. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

BLOOMINGTON, July 6.—Word has been received here to-day of the White Caps beating Luther Jones, the son of a prominent citizen of Van Buren township, this county. It seems that the outrage was committed almost three weeks ago, but out of fear the man left the country, and it is probable that the details would never have been known had he not been so badly injured that it was necessary for his friends to bring him to his home. His parents believe that he will not recover. According to the young man's story, he has been the victim of the mob because he had mistreated a young wife. A part of the story is that only two miles from where the husband lies writhing in agony, the wife is dangerously sick with consumption, and her condition is such that she should not give the details of the whipping. The Journal correspondent has just returned from the bed of the injured man, where he found a scene of horror. The man is a white, and is a very dangerous condition. He is suffering from internal injuries, which were caused by one of the masked men kicking him in the back. On the night of June 16, about 1 o'clock, masked men entered his house, wrapped him in a sheet and carried him out. He was taken about one hundred yards from the house and tied to a tree. After beating his back into a mass of bleeding flesh, they loosed him and told him to leave the county. The next morning he went to Greene county to stay with relatives until brought back.

Victory for the State Police Board. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

TERRE HAUTE, July 6.—In the Superior Court this afternoon Judge McNutt, on motion of counsel for the State Police Board, granted the application for a review of the judgment previously entered holding the State police law unconstitutional. The court then set aside the judgment heretofore entered against Messrs. Calverley and Sanker, the three State Police Commissioners, and dissolved the injunction restraining them from organizing the police force. The effect of this reversal of the former decision is to make the police law passed by the Legislature constitutional. City Attorney Simon was granted an appeal to the Supreme Court. The cause of this action on the part of Judge McNutt is the discovery of the decision in the 121st Indiana, in which it was held that the clause providing that the policemen be selected by the voters of the precincts did not invalidate the whole law, because the prior clause provides that the commission shall take effect not to be influenced by the voters of the precincts. Judge McNutt's former decision was made when unaware of this. This places the State board in charge of the police, and they are restrained from exercising authority since March 14.

Pretended to Be Insane. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

SCOTTSDALE, July 6.—In the Scott Circuit Court, this morning, a man giving his name as Frank Lubb, was sentenced to six years in the State prison for attempting to steal a horse on the farm of Jefferson Pounds, in the southern part of this county, last Thursday. The fellow was caught putting the saddle on a horse, which he had caught from the farm. When arrested he spoke only a few words in English, and then pretended not to understand the language. When arraigned for trial he conversed some in German, but refused to escape punishment by feigning insanity. He was taken to prison to-day, and while awaiting the train he used bad English, and the sheriff had to threaten to gag him.

Saloons Open on the Fourth. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

CRAWFORDVILLE, July 6.—The saloons in this city were permitted to be wide open on July 4 and whisky was as easy to get as water. Many intoxicated persons were seen on the streets. At the Methodist Church yesterday Rev. G. W. Switzer took occasion to pull the city officials over the coats for allowing such open violation of the law, and also said that patriotism did not mean drunkenness, nor did it take whisky to be patriotic. He said that he was no longer assigned to the saloons to keep open, unless it was because the saloon men had given large sums of money to help carry on the celebration.

Reunion of Veterans. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

WORTHINGTON, July 6.—The grand reunion of Wilder's brigade, the "Perimeter" brigade, and Fourteenth Regiment Indiana Volunteers will be held at this place Aug. 23, 27 and 28. The committees are hard at work making arrangements for the event. General A. Wilder, Rosecrans, Kimball, Schofield and others will be present.

The Blackford County Murder. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

HARTFORD CITY, July 6.—The Blackford county murder is the sole topic in the neighborhood of the reserve to-day. Cash Herron, whom Lanning accused, has fled the county, but before leaving he declared that he was innocent of the crime. He was arrested by Sheriff Lanning and taken to the county jail. No more evidence was elicited to-day at the inquest which resulted in finding Herron guilty of the murder.

The Itata Simply Held for Leaving the Port of San Diego Without Clearance Papers.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., July 6.—Nothing new is developed as regards the Chilean steamer Itata, though she has been here two days. Nothing has been heard from United States Marshal Gard or District Attorney Cole, who are at Los Angeles. The vessel, at present, is in charge of Collector Berry, who holds her for violating the navigation laws, in leaving port without clearance papers, and it is stated that the Itata will plead guilty to this charge and pay a fine. The opinion is expressed by eminent lawyers of this city that the charge of violation of the neutrality laws will not hold, and commander Tejada, of the Itata, expresses confidence that the vessel will not be delayed more than a few days longer. Then, he says, the vessel will proceed to San Francisco and take a cargo for Iquique. It is anticipated that action of some sort will be taken shortly. Collector Berry has received no instructions from Washington.

STEAMER SERVIA DISABLED.

Returning to New York with the Crank-Pin of an Engine Broken.

NEW YORK, July 6.—The steamship Eider, which arrived off Fire Island this afternoon, brought the news that the steamship Servia, which left on Saturday morning, was returning to this port, having broken the crank-pin of the high-pressure engine. She was seen about 150 miles out in tow of the oil-tank steamer Chester. The Servia, when she left on Saturday, had on board a large number of passengers, mostly people from Chicago. Prince George, of Greece, was also a passenger.

Captain Bauer, of the Eider, was seen at the pier in Hoboken when that vessel arrived at 3 p. m. this evening. In relation to the accident to the Servia he said that the vessel was sighted 130 miles from Sandy Hook in latitude 40.35 and longitude 70 degrees west. She signaled twenty-two times, stating that she was completely disabled. Captain Bauer said that the Servia was, when she signaled and asked for tows. The Chester is now on her way here at the rate of five knots an hour. Captain Bauer said that the crank pin that broke is twenty-two inches in diameter and it might take a month for the Servia to get refitted with a new one. It may be necessary to send back to England for a duplicate.

The river is cutting the banks on both sides of the new channel, and the main body of water flows through it. The government steamer Alert, which passed here at 5 o'clock this morning, is stranded near Doniphan. The river rose six inches here last night.
